Batch 2016-18

IIHMR Delhi was a platform that combined two of my ambitions, wanting to pursue MBA and wishing to do something in the healthcare sector. PGDHM concentrated on the general management aspect as well as the specific application of those concepts in the healthcare field. It also gave me the opportunity to learn about the intricacies involved in the running of a hospital. The course at IIHMR is well structured with dedicated faculty to guide students. Being from a non-medical background myself, I was initially concerned about the biology and healthcare related subjects, however, my concerns were taken care of by the teaching style at IIHMR. Each course is taught right from the basics, irrespective of the background of the students. This gave me and all my peers equal opportunity to imbibe the knowledge being imparted. Along with the academics, the numerous field visits serve as great industry experience and the annual programme and sports week come as a wave of fresh air amidst academic rigour.

After pursuing my MBA from IIHMR Delhi, I believe that I have the courage to face any challenge, not only in the field of management but personal & all round life decisions. If someone asks me today if I made the right decision, my answer is YES. It made me come out of my comfort zone. IIHMR as an institution, made me to accept challenges graciously. The staff made me visible to myself at times when I was lost. At last, it made me a worldly wiser person than I was ever before.

Thanks IIHMR for all the memories, friends and making me. Congratulations to Faculty and make it large. Cheers!

Batch 2016-18

I am Dr Arpita Agrawal, presently working with Quality Improvement Division at National Health Systems Resource Centre, Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, New Delhi. Being a member of IIHMR family, I extend my deep gratitude, appreciation and trustworthiness to the institute which inspired and shaped my career in public health. IIHMR not only helped me in identifying my core competency but also inculcated management skills. With the shift in current healthcare system of India, IIHMR is one such platform where one can have perfect balance of theoretical knowledge and field exposure to embark on your journey as a public health expert.

Lastly, I owe my sincere thanks to my teachers, experts and others who guided me on my endeavors.

I took an academic walk down the corridors of IIHMR, New Delhi with an aspiration to build a career in the field of public health. It was a complete hand-holding, a blessing, which I received. Persistent support from the faculties for publication, trainings and conference participation during the academic stint was something I think flourished and responsible for current professional standing. I strongly believe that the inputs at the right time and rightly helped me build my career. IIHMR delhi has that Strong transdisciplinary and network platform which every graduate carries and can foster to give themselves a systematic, correctly designed and timely career progression.
